

Paul M. Joyce

Paul M. Joyce is a Principal and a senior consultant at Mercer in the Health & Benefits practice in Boston, MA. Paul is responsible for understanding client service expectations, delivery of work projects, promoting client perspectives, as well as oversight of Team consultants. Areas of concentration include strategy, goal setting and development, project management, client advocacy, and implementation of client benefit objectives.

Paul has over 30 years experience in the field of employee benefits including working with several national insurance carriers. Paul has recently managed engagements relating to consumer driven health strategy, merger & acquisition benefit integration, medical/pharmacy/life/disability Requests for Proposals. In addition, Paul has also worked as a staff attorney for several local unions.

Paul earned a B.A. from Assumption College, and a Juris Doctorate degree from the New England School of Law. Paul is a member of the Massachusetts Bar and he holds Life, Accident and Health Producer Licenses in several jurisdictions throughout the United States.